ZIP WYATT KILLED.

THE NOTED OUTLAW SHOT IN A BATTLE IN OKLAHOMA.

BILL DOOLIN FATALLY WOUNDED

CHARLES BLACK, ANOTHER DESPERADO, SERIOUSLY HURT.

Six Prisoners Were Also Taken and Oklahoma Is Now Happily Rid of One of Its Most Noted Bands of Bandits—The Fight Recurred Near Sheridan.

Wichita, Kas., July 23.—(Special.) Today another band of desperados was crushed in Oklahoma. The entire Yeager band of outlaws was captured by deputy marshals, and their leader, Dick Yeager, alias Zip Wyatt, was killed. Ever since the extermination of the Cook gang and the imprisonment of their leader in the Albany penitentiary for forty-five years, the Yeager gang has taken the front rank in the bandits of Oklahoma. They robbed and murdered wherever they went, and held up trains, country merchants and individuals. Their greatest feat was the hold-up of the Rock Island train at Dover, O. T., and the shooting of the express messenger. While escaping they killed a preacher, whom they met on the road, that they might use his horse. In short, they have been a terror in Western Oklahoma for the last year, notwithstanding the fact that three of their number were killed after the Dover robbery.

To-day five deputy marshals encountered them near Sheridan, and a pitched battle followed, in which over 100 shots were exchanged. Dick Yeager, the chief of the outlaws, was immediately killed, and Bill Doolin and Charlie Black, so badly wounded that they are not expected to recover. When these three fell from their saddles the other four outlaws lost heart, and being out of ammunition were easily captured. Deputy Marshal Huff was seriously wounded by the outlaws, and it is thought that he will die. Black, one of the captured men, is a brother to the former leader of the band, who was killed immediately after the Dover train robbery. The body of Yeager was taken to Hennessey, and the six prisoners were taken to the Guthrie jail. This fight took place in the gang, and Oklahoma is now without any outlaws of the first class.

DESEALATION AT SILVER CITY.

The New Mexico City Left in a Sad Plight by the Storm of Sunday Night.

Denver, Col., July 23.—A special to the Times from Silver City, N. M., says: This town presents a sad spectacle to-day, caused by the most destructive flood ever known in this region. Sunday night water came down from every direction and meeting at Fortfield corner, threw the flood right onto the business houses. Mud and sand piled up on Broadway half way to the windows. The postoffice is ruined. One house is badly wrecked, and another is being filled with sand and water. The hotel was wrecked. In every part of town there is a sad scene. The loss of property is estimated at $25,000. Other business men lose similar amounts. The approximate loss is $100,000. A number of bridges were washed away. It will be a week before trains can pass. The weather is threatening today. Should more rain fall it will finish the buildings that remain.

THE PANEL IS COMPLETED.

Forty Men Secured From Among Whom the Taylor Jury Will Be Selected—Trial Begins Thursday.

Carrollton, Mo., July 23.—(Special.) The work of selecting the panel of forty for the Taylor jury began this morning at 8 o'clock, and the entire day was consumed in the work. At 6 o'clock the panel was completed. The jury is almost entirely composed of farmers from the outskirts of the county and are intelligent men. Nearly all said they had read newspaper accounts of the trial, but the judge insisted that it did not disqualify them as jurors. The state and defense will make their challenges and report to-morrow night. The evidence will commence Thursday morning. A larger crowd is in attendance this time than at the trial.

MR. HERR WANDERS.

IN HIS DEBATE WITH MR. HARVEY HE IS INCLINED TO SCATTER.

DIFFICULT TO KEEP THE TRACK

HARVEY'S LOGICAL AND SCHOLARLY ARGUMENTS CONFUSE HIM.

A GREAT ARRAY OF FACTS.

PRIMARY MONEY AS A MEASURE OF VALUE DISCUSSED.

The Sixth Day of the Great Silver Debate Opened in the Presence of a Crowded House and Popular Interest in the Discussion Seems to Be Unabated.

Chicago, Ill., July 23.—The seating capacity of the rooms of the Illinois Club was again today the limit. The room was opened to-day. While the size of the room does not permit a large audience, the officers of the club are compelled, every day, to refuse admittance to many persons.

The day's talk was opened by Mr. Harvey. He said that the debate of the last session was of value as showing that during the past forty years silver had been steadily coined in spite of assertion to the contrary; that, by the tabled report of the reports of the mints, the commercial ratio between gold and silver had been maintained at about the French coinage ratio of 15 to 1, for 20 years; that during the twenty-two years since 1873, as the result of demonetization, the commercial ratio has declined to 12 to 1; that in the 23 years prior to 1873, the quantity ratio between gold and silver had ranged from 56 of silver to 1 of gold, to 4 of silver to 1 of gold, and that during all that time the commercial ratio had clung closely to the legal ratio. During all that time the commercial prices of silver bullion had remained steady. Since 1873, however, it has steadily and rapidly decreased. It was the dominating influence of London exchange to all parts of the world which led to gold being recognized by the world as a standard in all commercial transactions.

Mr. Herr continued to deny.

Mr. Herr, in his opening remarks, proceeded to call attention to what he called misleading statements in Mr. Harvey's books. For instance, he declared to be untrue the statement that it was believed that the cost of producing all of the gold in the world was about $2 per ounce, while the price of silver was higher. Mr. Herr pointed out that there had been a vast increase in production of gold since 1873. At the cost which Mr. Harvey spoke of, the silver miners in three years would have lost over $100,000,000.

Again Mr. Harvey had put the aggregate amount of silver in the world at about $2,000,000,000, while he estimated that there was about $2,000,000,000.

Mr. Harvey had said that the debt of the United States amounted to $100,000,000,000, while he estimated that the amount of interest which the United States paid annually to Europe was about $100,000,000.

Mr. Harvey said that the amount of silver referred to by him in his book was the amount available for coinage. For the rest he proposed to pursue the order of the discussion. He would answer the questions which he came to them.

Mr. Harvey then distributed a table showing the production of gold and silver from 1792 to 1892, and proceeded to show that the production of silver had been no fluctuations in relative ratio till after the demonetization act in 1873. He then proceeded to argue the price of silver, and the ratio of weight, there should be no difference in the treatment of silver and gold. He said that the government was the creator of money and the price of silver, and that the ratio of weight to the extent of fixing relative ratios, but it had no right to take from the legal tender quality of silver.

Still harping on the book.

Mr. Herr continued his objections to Mr. Harvey's statements, and that the government wanted to force silver. His competition would be to force silver. He said that the coinage of silver would increase the value of silver, and that the government would stamp on the dollar and return it to the market. He said that the government would call for 100,000 horses for the purpose of affixing a brand to them, and that the government would stamp on the dollar and return it to the market. He said that the government would call for 100,000 horses for the purpose of affixing a brand to them, and that the government would stamp on the dollar and return it to the market.

The speaker then took up the price of wheat, arguing that Mr. Harvey's deductions were wrong.

A solid shot from Mr. Harvey.

Mr. Harvey said that this argument had fixed the price of gold, and all the friends of silver, and that the friends of silver, in the belief that the nation could better keep out of the hands of the bankers, had been misled.

Returning to his argument on bimetallic money, Mr. Herr said that the option of the debtor to pay in the cheaper metal should not be impaired.
